

Human Rights Awareness Promotion

Principle and Outline

The Daigas Group holds that human rights ought to be accorded the maximum respect in all circumstances. All officers and employees must be keenly aware of this, and acquire and act on correct knowledge pertaining to human rights. In expanding its business globally, the Group pays careful attention to compliance with local and national laws and regulations, respect for human rights and other international norms, local culture and customs, and the interests of stakeholders. Accordingly, it offers human rights training and conducts educational activities aimed at improving awareness and instilling knowledge of human rights issues.

System for Promoting Human Rights Awareness

To promote human rights awareness throughout the Daigas Group, Osaka Gas has established a “Daigas Group Human Rights Committee” headed by the director (Director and Senior Executive Officer) responsible for the Human Resources Department. This committee decides the activity policy with regard to human rights.

Based on this policy, the Human Resources Department’s “Human Rights Center” plans, formulates and administers numerous efforts and events such as human rights training for all job levels, human rights lectures, and human rights slogan contests, and offers cooperation and support to individual organizations. In FY2023.3, we have started training programs based on human rights themes identified as those which we should give consideration to in human rights due diligence. The top award-winning slogans are made into posters that are put up in offices to constantly remind employees of the importance of human rights.

As well, business units and major affiliates have their own “Human Rights Committee,” which relays company policies and human rights information to employees, encourages participation in outside lectures and the human rights slogan contest. The “Daigas Group Human Rights Committee” also exchanges information and opinions with divisions in the Group, all in an effort to understand what must be done across the entire Group. Further, each business unit and major affiliate appoints a “Human Rights Awareness Promoter,” who is in charge of dealing with daily issues related to human rights.

The Daigas Group’s “Compliance Desks” and “Human Rights Center” also accept consultation and reports on all matters related to human rights.

Initiatives to Respect Human Rights for Suppliers

The Daigas Group sets up a section on human rights in its annual sustainability questionnaire for major suppliers. In FY2024.3, our overseas subsidiaries also conducted a questionnaire survey on addressing human rights targeting major suppliers and conducted on-site audits by adding the confirmation of human rights risks to the existing quality audit framework. The results confirmed that there were no problems with forced labor or child labor.

In addition, at the human rights lecture for organization heads and managers, which is held every year, in FY2024.3, we invited the participation of construction companies, service chain companies, and other partner companies, and approximately 50 people attended the lecture.

Please see P.098 for more information on the details of the conducted sustainability questionnaire survey.

Implementation of Human Rights Training

Human rights training for all levels

The Daigas Group has human rights training for all job levels: officers, managers, and new recruits.

In the human rights training for new managers, participants learn about human rights issues that companies should consider. We have human rights lectures for division heads and managers led by outside experts.

Human rights training for all employees have been conducted mainly through video distribution since FY2023.3. In FY2024.3, human rights issues at workplace, including unconscious bias and men's childcare leave, were featured under the slogan of "Apply What You Realized to the Workplace." Approximately 16,700 employees across the Group participated in the training.
